The Honorable
Stansfield Turner
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Stan:

In talking by telephone today with [redacted] I have learned that you are out of the city and will not be back into the office until Monday noon. Therefore, I am having this letter delivered to you by courier with the hope that we can talk by telephone upon your return.

The purpose of this letter is to extend to you, on behalf of Dean Rusk and the other Directors of this Institute, an invitation to be our honored Dinner Speaker on the occasion of our Annual Meeting to be convened December 3-4 in the State Department. More specifically, we hope that you can give the after-dinner remarks on Monday evening, December 3, in the Benjamin Franklin Dining Room on the eighth floor of the State Department.

Enclosed is the copy of the two-day agenda. You will note that a number of your associates are on the program, including Bill Miller who will lead off the discussions on the second day. Note also, please, our theme for the two-day meeting: "Strategic Planning for the 1980s: How Business Can Cope with the New International Realities."

We see this as a major event and believe that all would benefit enormously by having you deliver the keynote evening remarks. IMDI is entering its tenth year -- and our theme for this first Annual Meeting will be looking ahead at the next ten years. We would leave the direction and substance of your remarks to your own discretion. And, we would be pleased to work with your professional staff in all ways appropriate in the planning process.

As you are aware from having participated in one of our Joint Council Quarterly Meetings two years ago this next December as Dinner Speaker in the Kennedy Center, our audience is comprised of approximately 250 senior members of the international corporate, U.S. Government, and foreign diplomatic communities. Our joint roster appears on page 6 of the enclosed Annual Report.

October 12, 1979

All other elements of the program are firmly in place except for this one very important assignment. We have held off on inviting you because, through our earlier work with the Federal Reserve Board, we had reason to believe that [] might be our Dinner Speaker. We just learned yesterday, however, that it will be impossible for him to make this commitment at this time.

STAT

I am anxious to talk with you by telephone regarding this because one of our obligations to our Board and Council Members is to have this program completely firm within the next week. We hope indeed that your response can be in the positive.

Thank you very much and I look forward to our talking by telephone on Monday.

With best wishes.

Cordially,

Gene E. Bradley
Chairman
